DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hattori et al (EP762208).

Hattori et al disclose a light sensitive material comprising a binder resin, and initiator, and a polymerizable compound, as well as a solvent. Given the suitable monomers listed for the resin, one of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to employ monomers such as (meth)acrylic acid, hydroxyethyl(methacrylate) (instant formula(1)), and a functional (meth)acrylic compound (see pages 4 and 5, as well as polymers 1-3 and 10. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to choose cyclohexyl(meth)acrylate as a component of class (6) in the place of methyl (meth)acrylate in polymer 10). The resultant polymer would meet the instant claims limitations. The material is employed in a method of making a pattern including the steps of coating, drying/ pre-baking, exposed, and developed (see examples).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 4/8/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has argued that the reference fails to teach the cyclic containing resin is present in the instantly claimed amount and that the examples in the instant specification demonstrate that unexpected and superior results are obtained by the instant invention. The instant claims require that the cyclic containing component of the resin is present in an amount of 61-90%. The Examples of the specification of the reference teach that methyl methacrylate and ethyl methacrylate are present in the resin in amounts falling within the scope (70%, 85%) and that as in the list of monomers included as equivalent to these is a cyclic component as discussed above (component 7), thus that component is contemplated to be added in amounts falling within the instantly claimed range. Furthermore, the examiner has considered the examples in the instant specification. The only samples include amounts of 35%, 40%, 65%, 71%, 73%, and 75%, missing are points just outside the low end of the range and up to the high end of the range and just outside, therefore the examples are unpersuasive. They would also be unpersuasive due to the fact that the samples all comprise the most preferred embodiment, dicyclopentanylmethacrylate (see page 5 of the instant specification for this teaching), thus the examples are not commensurate in scope with the instant claims. Therefore, the examiner maintains the rejection of record.

In light of the amendment to claim 5, the 112 rejection has been withdrawn.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

Art Unit: 1795

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
